

Cat's Cradle

Music and Lyrics by Aline Shader (1967)

Verse 1

You take a little bit of string
And make a knot to join the ends
Now you can slip it on your hands
And you can show it to your friends

Verse 2

There's always someone who will know
There's always someone who will play
This kind of funny little game
And you can pass the time away

Bridge

You see my grandmother taught me to play the game quite well
She said her grandmother taught her to play, and I'd like to tell

Verse 3

That with a little bit of string
And with a little bit of time
And with a little bit of luck
I can teach it to the daughter of the daughter who'll be mine

*Optional Verse 3

That with a little bit of string
A little time until I've grown
And with a little bit of luck
I can teach it to the children of the children of my own