

Song for the New Year

Music and Lyrics by Aline Shader (1985)

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.

May the wonder of spring
And the warm summer sun
And the comfort of autumn
And the long winter sun.

Bring you peace in your heart
Bring you friendship and good cheer
From the first night to the last night
Of the coming year.

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.

May the summer be bright
And the autumn renew
Every hope for the winter
As the days follow through.

May the springtime awake
Every star that shines above
And may there be joy and gladness
In the year of love.

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.

We're singing out the old year
And singing in the new year
To welcome back the seasons
As they reappear.
